A lot to offer

It is with great pleasure that we present the 24th edition of "The Best Of" – our annual publication based on the results of an informal survey in Sint Maarten/Saint Martin from mid-December to early January regarding people's favourite businesses and personalities in various categories during the previous calendar year.

Of course, not everyone can finish first, but all nominees may rightfully be considered winners as well. There are also a number of relatively new establishments that perhaps failed to get enough support this time around, but will hopefully do better in "The Best Of 2025".

Even if a particular existing business was not among the Top 3, they should consider it an incentive to work even harder this year to make a positive impression on the public and get customers to vote for them. If there's one thing "The Best Of" confirms time and again, it's that "The Friendly Island" has a lot to offer.

Little Jerusalem

No one does Middle Eastern dishes quite like Little Jerusalem owner Abraham and his son Jamal. Either of the two can be seen behind the grill at the charming, homey, roadside eatery, whipping up tasty treats for guests, always with a smile and ready for a friendly conversation.

Coming in at the number one spot for Best Middle Eastern Restaurant on the island for 2024 is humbling for the family, who is grateful to their clients and everyone who voted to give them the honour. When it comes to Middle Eastern dishes, Little Jerusalem has several options – from tasty shawarma sandwiches and unique meals to freshly made hummus and baba ganoush.

Abraham and Jamal have created a great balance of spices to craft a flavourful taste unique to Little Jerusalem – one that takes diners straight to the heart of the Middle East. The flavour profile owes much to the

Best Non-Profit Organization

SXM Paws

SXM Paws – a dedicated non-profit rescuing stray dogs on St. Maarten – has been voted Best Non-Profit Organisation in 2024, for making a difference one paw at a time!

In 2019, SXM Paws opened a small no-kill shelter in Cay Bay, creating a safe space for rescue dogs. Unlike traditional shelters where dogs are confined to kennels, SXM Paws allows its rescues to roam freely during the day. This unique approach helps socialise the dogs, preparing them for adoption both locally and abroad.

Visitors can cuddle, play, and bond with the resilient mixed breeds rescue dogs, affectionately known as “Coconut Retrievers,” or even take them on walks, hikes or beach outings. The shelter also welcomes volunteers to assist with cleaning, feeding, and leash training. Want some puppy loving? You can come by the adoption centre to volunteer or meet the lovely rescue dogs. Philipsburg Pharmacy

Philipsburg Pharmacy is still going strong, celebrating its 23rd anniversary in February, and is proud to serve the community with expertise and compassion for the public's overall health. Beyond dispensing medications, the pharmacy has always had a proactive approach to helping customers better their health, and has built a strong clientele base. It has featured among our top three winners many times over the years.

Philipsburg Pharmacy

1st

Philipsburg Pharmacy was started by pharmacist Dick Luttekens, and the small operation quickly grew under his leadership, driven by a proactive attitude, attention to personalised service, and openness to innovation. He acquired Maho Pharmacy in 2010, hiring Joris de Groot to work there. Today, De Groot is carrying on the legacy as the new owner of Philipsburg Pharmacy.

New management has kept the same approach to innovation and modernisation, and will soon expand the pharmacy's reach yet again. In an exciting move, the pharmacy will soon be located at an even more convenient location – the former SZV building on Walter A. Nisbeth Road (Pondfill Road). As of March, the team looks forward to welcoming the public at the new, more spacious location – with a fresh look and the same trusted service.

And, of course, don't miss their signature local crab-backs and salt-fish cakes – all-time favourites that will leave you wanting more! As for their Johnny cakes, they are a must try, especially when paired with "Conch Yvette".

Ziggy Chang

Ziggy, is no ordinary bartender; he's a seven-time award-winning vibe creator! He's featured in a catchy viral tune about St. Maarten (set to the tune of Peru by Fire Boy DML) which has tourists singing along before they even hit the bar. "They go home, play the song, and relive their vacation," Ziggy says with pride.

At the bar, he's all about keeping things lively. "No awkward moments. Whether it's two people or 40 people, I make sure everyone's chatting. If you come alone, you'll leave knowing everyone," he laughs. When guests ask, "Who is Ziggy?" his playful response is: "Depends... What did Ziggy do?" And this always gets a laugh and keeps the good vibes rolling.

Splitting his time between Simpson Bay Resort and Secret Seafood House, Ziggy's been a familiar face across the island's best spots, including Replay Bar and La Patrona. "Winning seven years in a row is a blessing and an honour. Thank you so much!" Ziggy says with heartfelt gratitude. Whether it's the music, the laughter, or Ziggy himself, you'll always find something special at his bar.

Best Visual Artist

Ruby Bute

The island lost a national treasure with the passing of Lady Ruby Bute in late 2024. The beloved artist, poet, and teacher was a friend and mentor to many. She has been voted the #1 Visual Artist in our Best Of series countless times, and her decades of creating art with a deep-seeded love for her vibrant Caribbean culture lives on in her Friars Bay gallery, in paintings, videos, books, and in the artists she mentored and students she inspired.

Our two runners-up, when contacted, both expressed that they hoped it was she that claimed the #1 spot, remembering her fondly as a special mentor and friend. She has also been voted the year's Best Writer/Poet.

Well into her final chapter of life, she remained active in the arts, painting in her home, holding workshops and continuing to be a strong advocate of teaching art in school.

The self-trained painter undeniably became one of the island's most influential artists, shaping our cultural fabric. Her last completed painting, Mango Lady Garden, reflected her signature expressive and vibrant style, capturing the gratitude that comes along with an abundant harvest. It is held, in the photo, by her daughter Jacqueline Vrolijk (left) and granddaughter Gerline Isaac (right) during the late Bute's birthday commemoration in mid-January.

Best Writer/Poet

Ruby Bute

Ruby Bute, who laid down her pen and her brush in late 2024, was best known for her decades of creating expressive and vivid paintings. She was also a beloved storyteller by way of the spoken word, and a published author. In school classes, on film, on paper, in her books, and at cultural events hosted at her peaceful estate, the late Lady Bute shared stories of life, with all of its ebbs and flows, joys and losses.

Her first book, and perhaps the most well-known, was Golden Voices of S'martin (1989). The showcase of her poetry and illustrations became an essential part of local literature. In 2024, she both illustrated Soualikids by Association Les Fruits de Mer, and crucially published her autobiography, Rising Spirits – a labour of love that she had been working on in parts, since the 90s.

Rising Spirits recounts the story of her life from the age of six, sharing the story of her journey with the arts, and her family life. In the photo, her daughter Jacqueline Vrolijk

Best Photographer / Videographer

Elvis Harrigan

Elvis Harrigan has been voted Best Photographer/Videographer and he's deeply grateful for the support. "I think I was voted top based on years of being in the photography field. Over time, I've built lasting business relationships and friendships that have earned me loyalty from many voters and I'm grateful for that."

Elvis describes 2024 as both challenging and rewarding, filled with destination weddings, networking, and personal growth. This journey inspired him to launch a podcast, Aduhltng, where he and friends discuss life topics, from financial literacy to self-awareness.

Elvis is passionate about making clients feel at ease during photoshoots. "Even if it's their first time, I try to assist with posing and ideas." His services include indoor and outdoor packages with digital photos, retouching, hard copies, canvas prints, and even photo albums for weddings.

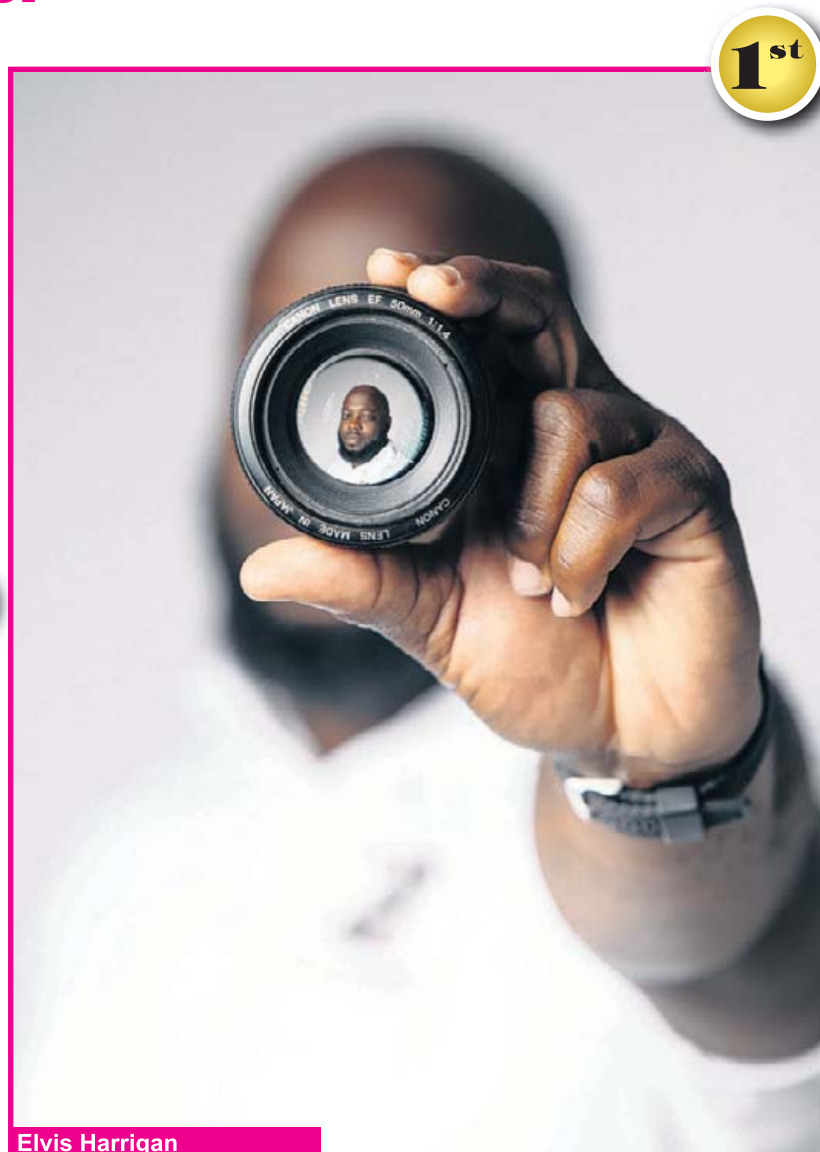

Elvis likes to share his knowledge with fellow creatives and he encourages St. Maarten's network of talented photographers, videographers, and designers to stay driven: "It's not an easy road, but you can make it! St. Maarten has so much talent we're not here against each other."
